

In Wisconsin there isn't any way I want the NO CALL list to change. It is the best thing we have to protect us from unsolicited phone calls. Currently at my house we can go for a full day without any calls. We know when the phone rings it is a family member or a friend calling to talk to us, not someone calling to try to sell us something. This never happened prior to the implementation of the NO CALL list. We were inundated with telemarketers at least once a day every day on an average. I would rather have a silent phone than calls from telemarketers.
